HERBERT GOES TO GALION STRIKE SCENE

Vote on Memorial Coliseum Set for Nov. 4

ARCHITECT'S DRAWING OF PROPOSED COLISEUM

Proposal for Structure To Seat Over 6,000 Ready for County's Ballots.

Marion county voters will be asked on Nov. 4 to make a decision on a long considered proposal to build a Memorial Coliseum on the county fairgrounds.

Voters will act on a one mill levy to run for five years to underwrite an estimated $350,000 to $375,000 structure as a memorial to Marion county veterans of all wars.

Although the idea for a fairgrounds coliseum has been considered for a number of years, action on the proposition was necessarily held in abeyance during the war.

Early this year the idea was revived actively again and a decision was reached by the county commissioners to place the proposition before the voters. The request was made by the Marion County Agricultural Society, which has control of the fairgrounds and the annual county fair.

Plans Drawn by Architect

The proposed structure, for which tentative plans have been drawn up by architect Charles Oborn of Marion, would have a seating capacity of approximately 6,000 with temporary seating arrangement to boost capacity to 8,000 or 9,000 when needed.

The building would be constructed of reinforced concrete and steel. Dimensions would be 300 feet long by 208 feet wide and 90 feet high. It would approximate in size the coliseum at the state fairgrounds in Columbus.

Plans would call for a main entrance large enough to accommodate vehicles for exposition purposes. Underneath the grandstand would be located 71 display rooms 14 feet square, with entrance both from the arena and from the outside. A cafeteria and dining room are included in the architect's drawings as are eight rest rooms.

Removable Floor Provided

A sectional floor similar to the type used at Columbus would be laid for basketball and other events requiring a hard surface. The floor would be removable so that the earth surface would be

TROLLEY BURNS AFTER CRASH

11 Ohioans Slightly Injured as Gasoline Flames Cover Street Car.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Oct. 28—Eleven persons were burned or injured, none believed seriously, early today when a street car was sprayed with gasoline and virtually destroyed by fire following a collision with a tractor-trailer hauling thousands of gallons of the fuel, according to Fire Marshal Durward George.

With the front door of the street car blocked by flames, the 15 passengers and motorman crowded through the rear exit or broke windows and climbed out to safety. The huge tires of the trailer exploded with terrific noise to add to the excitement.

The trailer also caught fire and Dale Campbell, 28, of Bluffton, Ind., leaped to safety.

Flames Shoot High

Marshal George said the gasoline which sprayed the street car came from two "saddle" tanks containing 50 gallons of gasoline each. Flames 65 feet high shot into the air.

The trailer was hauling 3,750 gallons of gasoline, according to Campbell.

Campbell was charged with reckless driving.

The accident occurred at Lincoln Park drive and Freeman avenue.

Seven fire companies put out the fire, which melted the trolley wires, showering the wreckage with showers of electrical sparks.

Fire Carried

The released gasoline rolled downhill, carrying flames with it for a block.

Charles Westfelt, 35, the street car motorman, was credited by Patrolmen Paul Waite and Charles Rutledge of the highway safety bureau, with saving his passengers from more serious injury.

Westfelt told the officers his car was standing still when the trailer bore down on it. He said he threw open both front and rear doors and shouted for the men and women aboard to run.

Passengers not able to get through the rear door smashed windows to escape.

Assistant Fire Chief Leo Huhn estimated the damage to the street car and trailer at $25,000.

Maine Guards Against Resurgence of Fires

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, ME., Oct. 28—Grimly Maine guarded today against resurgence of forest fires that have dealt the state its worst economic blow.

After two days of light winds, velocities of 15 to 18 miles an hour from the southwest were predicted by the weather bureau, which also forecast light showers in northern Maine.

Of 22 dead and $32,000,000 property loss from forest fires in the nation, Maine had 15 deaths and $30,000,000 damage.

Although all but one of the state's many fires were under control last night, Co-chairman Edward A. Whitney of the governor's emergency committee reported 20,000 fire fighters on vigil.

WRITER CITED BY COMMITTEE

Un-American Group Dismisses Dalton Trumbo for Refusing Answers.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—A second screen writer, Dalton Trumbo, refused today to tell a house un-American activities subcommittee whether he is a Communist, and the group voted to cite him for contempt.

Trumbo, as did John Howard Lawson on yesterday, took the stand that the committee had no right to question him about his political beliefs.

The 42-year-old writer was excused from the witness stand amid loud applause from spectators in the hearing room.

Chairman Thomas (R-NJ) pounded with his gavel and warned the audience to refrain from demonstrations.

After Lawson refused to answer a question yesterday as to whether he had been a Communist, the committee voted to cite him for contempt. This is an action which has to go to house officials, but could eventually lead to prosecution in the courts.

Fine, Jail Provided

Federal statutes provide a fine of $100 to $1,000 and imprisonment from 30 days to one year for contempt of congress.

Trumbo spent a lively 10 minutes on the witness stand before Thomas finally abandoned his persistent attempt to have the writer answer questions directly.

"This is the beginning of American concentration camps," Trumbo shouted as he walked from the witness stand, with several Capitol policemen standing around him.

Trumbo's activities in Hollywood were criticized last week by several witnesses in the committee's investigation of communism in Hollywood.

Jack L. Warner, movie producer, listed Trumbo among writers he said he believes attempt to inject "un-American doctrines" in movie scenarios.

Producer Sam Wood mentioned Trumbo along with two other writers and said, "I think they are agents of a foreign country."

Recalls Gerald L. K. Smith

When the committee declined to let Trumbo read his statement, the writer protested:

"You permitted a statement by Gerald L. K. Smith to be—"

Banging his gavel, Thomas cut him off with the shout "that is out of order."

"I would like to know what it is in my statement—," Trumbo stuttered.

Thomas banged his gavel again.

"I have evidence—," Trumbo shouted.

Cautioned to proceed in order, Trumbo stated his name, address and place of birth.

"Are you a member of the Screen Writers Guild?" asked Robert E. Stripling, chief investigator for the committee.

"At this point," Trumbo replied, "I would like to introduce certain statements about my work for General Arnold, head of the Army Air Forces—"

Thomas reminded Trumbo of what happened when Lawson refused to answer questions and was cited for contempt.

Stripling told Trumbo that he would ask a series of questions that could be answered "yes" or "no." He added that if Trumbo wanted to make an explanation after he gave the answer, the committee probably would be willing to listen.

The little writer insisted that he could not answer all questions "yes or no," asserting that such answers could be given only "by a moron or a slave."

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28—The body of John J. O'Leary, 67, vice president of the AFL United Mine Workers who died here yesterday after a heart attack, was enroute to Pittsburgh today.

Council Hears Report On Phone Rate Hike

City council Monday night heard an explanation of the rate increase case of the Ohio Associated Telephone company being heard Thursday in Columbus by the Ohio Utilities Commission.

Clare E. Williams, general manager, told council that the rate increase was a "grim necessity" in view of increased operation and maintenance costs. He explained that the company at present had an earning rate of but 2.8 per cent on its investment and a rate revision is being sought to effect a return of 3.91 per cent.

Mr. Williams said that approximately three-quarters of local subscribers will not be affected by the rate increase. The revision will for the most part affect individual business phones, both city and rural.

The rate hike as proposed will find these changes in service rates: business phones will cost $6.50 per month, an increase of $1; single party line residence, $3, a boost of 50 cents; rural business, $3.50, an increase of 50 cents.

Present four party residential lines will not be affected, nor will rural residence lines. Business extensions will likewise remain the same but residential extensions will go up from 50 cents to 75 cents.

City Solicitor Edwin B. Spohn will represent the city at the hearings Thursday.

Action on Airport

Council Monday night passed a resolution approving architects' plans for the Marion municipal airport and authorizing Safety-Service Director E. O. Uncapher to enter contracts for the construction of the new airfield.

Approval by the Civil Aeronautics Board has been given the plans for the huge project with the exception of a few minor details still to be worked out, according to Mr. Uncapher.

With the formality of city approval out of the way, preparations for advertising bids for the construction of the initial portion of the airport are now under way. Bids are expected to be offered within a month with construction actually getting under way in the spring or earlier if conditions permit.

Concerning his company's request for a general rate increase, Mr. Williams told council that present rates in effect were established in 1928.

In declaring the increase an economic necessity he pointed out that operation and maintenance costs mounted tremendously just prior to and during the war years. He pointed out the rising labor costs and equipment costs as factors necessitating an increase.

Load Increasing

Mr. Williams reported that daily messages now are far greater than ever before, even greater than during the war years. He pointed out an increase in the number of stations in this area from 6,800 to 10,350 since 1940.

"We reached the point of saturation some time ago," he declared, adding that expansion of service had been brought to a virtual halt because of the load being carried.

Mr. William in admitting that the present exchange is inadequate, informed council that the company has let contracts for a new local exchange. The new exchange to be erected on company purchased property on Prospect street will have a 10,000 line capacity. The project is estimated to cost $500,000, he said.

In planning the new Marion exchange the company Williams explained had taken into consideration the expanding needs of the community and felt that the new undertaking would result in adequate service to area subscribers.

With the city now in a position to ask for bids on its municipal airport, possibilites loom that Marion will be ready to accommodate airline service by the latter part of 1948.

Three quarter million dollar project probably will get underway this winter unless weather conditions are extreme, it was reported.

Stage 1 Bids

Bids on the construction of what is known as stage 1 of the project are to be advertised within the month. This will include grading, draining and fencing the grounds, construction of one runway and two taxi strips.

The main runway to be built will be the northeast-southwest runway, 3,800 feet long and 100 feet wide with supplemental sod strips along each side giving a total width of graded and drained surface of 550 feet.

The taxi strips would be 50 feet wide and so laid out that they may later be widened and lengthened to form the second and third main runways which would be build under later stages in the construction project.

The clearing of the ground and perhaps preliminary grading and draining system jobs are those in stage 1 that may be undertaken as early as this winter.

The city has leased a portion of the 644 acres lying northeast of the city for farm purposes. The contemplated construction work will not at the present time interfere with holders of the leases, Mr. Uncapher reported.

Plans for the Marion airport for which a local bond issue of $400,000 voted in 1945 and a Federal allocation of $246,000 will see go into effect have been in charge of Clark Hickey & Co., a Chicago engineering firm.

MARION BUS WAGE AGREEMENT SOUGHT

Drivers Vote To Strike Unless Increase Is Granted.

A meeting of representatives of the city bus drivers' union and officials of the Marion Rapid Transit Co. was scheduled for this afternoon in an effort to reach settlement in a dispute over wages.

The wage dispute has resulted in the union's call for a drivers' strike beginning at midnight Friday. Union officials said today 24 drivers and four mechanical employes would walk out at that time unless an agreement was reached with the company in the meantime.

The union, local 222 of the Transportation Workers Union, CIO, took the strike vote last Thursday.

W. H. Wright of Akron, international representative of the TWU, said today the union was asking a wage increase of 30 cents an hour. He said that under terms of the contract, which became effective June 2, wage negotiations were reopened as of Oct. 1.

In talks since that date union representatives and company officials have been unable to reach an agreement.

Sheldon Dodds, secretary of the company, said the meeting this afternoon would be held at the bus company office on North State street.

The present wage rate for drivers is 90 cents an hour for men with less than three months employment and 95 cents an hour for all men with the company more than three months. This rate was established when a five cents an hour increase was granted in the June contract which also set up the following vacation schedule: five years' employment, two weeks' vacation; from three years' to five years' employment, 10 days' vacation; one year up to three years, one week's vacation.

Railroads Ask Right To Operate Airlines

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—The nation's railroads pleaded today for the right to enter the airline business, asserting they are forced through taxes to contribute to a $200,000,000 annual subsidy for the air industry.

The rail carriers spoke through the Association of American Railroads in a statement submitted to the President's air policy commission.

They asked that they be accorded equal consideration with other applicants for airline routes. The law now is interpreted by the civil aeronautics board as forbidding surface carriers to engage in full-scale air operations.

The railroads said their proposal would not lessen competition, but instead would carry into the air the competition now existing among the surface lines, causing it to be intensified rather than diminished.

CAMPAIGN WORKERS TO REPORT TONIGHT

Hope To See $60,043 Goal in Sight.

Last night's fall downpour failed to dampen the spirits of workers in the Marion Community Fund campaign who covered territories, where, in many instances contributors could only be contacted in the house-to-house canvass after working hours in the evening.

Hopes are high that tonight's reports will indicate the goal of $60,043 to finance the work of the agencies of the Marion Community Foundation will be in sight. The workers have not been asked to meet at the school houses as was done last week, but to turn their reports in to their precinct chairmen who in turn are to be contacted by their ward leaders. PETITION FROM 1,200 CITIZENS GETS RESPONSE

Governor Says He Will Ascertain Whether Mayor Amann Should Be Ousted.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 28—Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, declared he would "tolerate no breakdown of the public peace," and announced he would go to Galion this afternoon to observe conditions involving a strike at the North Electric company plant.

The governor, who will be accompanied by Adjt. Gen. C. W. Goble and Robert Jones, the governor's executive secretary, said he will ascertain whether Mayor William Amann should be removed.

He told newsmen that in his opinion Galion public officials should have averted last Wednesday's disturbance, in which a crowd of union sympathizers for 12 hours laid seige to 350 employes in the strike bound North Electric plant.

The strike has been in progress since Aug. 20, with the United Auto Workers (CIO) demanding recognition and a 20 per cent wage increase for the approximately 800 employes of the North Electric plant. Company and union representatives met yesterday and were to hold another meeting today.

Receives Petition

The governor decided to go to Galion after receiving a petition which sponsors said was signed by 1,200 Galion residents. The petition read:

"In view of the demonstrated inability or unwillingness of the mayor, the police department and the sheriff to maintain law and order and to protect lives, property and liberty of the citizens of this community, we the undersigned citizens of Galion call upon you for proper, adequate and timely aid to uphold the laws of the city, the state and nation and to acknowledge the responsibility of the state of Ohio in maintaining law and order in the present disturbance in this town."

The petition was presented by a group of four persons headed by Robert Wiseman, a field engineer for North Electric.

Accompanying Wiseman in presentation of the petition to the governor were: Roger Godfrey, a retired business man; Marvin Adams, a child welfare worker, and Arthur Manzer, a business man.

Governor Herbert said the two most important aspects of the strike situation were:

►Protection of the public, and

►Settlement of the dispute.

Mayor Amann, confronted with the plant seige last Wednesday, appealed to the governor for help from the state highway patrol. Herbert explained that the law prohibited the patrol from doing guard duty at strike.

Since then the city and county law enforcement forces have been consolidated temporarily under the direction of Sheriff Ralph E. Schreck of Crawford county.

Last night, the Galion city council transferred $400 to a fund set up to pay salaries of special deputies and $800 to a fund for their equipment.

Conference Resumed At Galion Today

Special to The Star

GALION, O., Oct. 28—Conferences aimed at settling the bitter labor dispute in the plant here were resumed this afternoon.

The talks were taken up where they left off yesterday without reaching any basis for a full agreement.

In the meantime two other developments were noted in the strike which has kept the plant closed since late last August. Three Marion men were bound over to the Crawford county grand jury on charges of driving a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner. The charge is the outgrowth of an outbreak of violence at the plant last Wednesday.

At Mt. Gilead last night union leaders received scant encouragement in their effort to organize workers of the North Electric plant there.

Major Point in Discussion

As talks were resumed in Galion today some conferees of both sides indicated a principal topic of discussion was methods by which a bargaining election could be held.

The company was understood to be willing to go along with a consent election by secret ballot with the state industrial relations commission supervising the balloting.

Union leaders off-the-record expressed confidence the union would

PATTON'S MEMOIRS BLAST MONTGOMERY

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—Gen. George W. Patton Jr., stormy wartime commander of the United States Third army, vigorously criticized Britain's Field Marshal Montgomery and also directed barbs at top American officers in an abridgement of his war journal published today.

In pungent, crisp phrases, Patton declared his belief the war in Europe would have been shortened and thousands of lives saved but for "the momentous error of the war" which he blamed on Montgomery's influence with SHAEF, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters.

Excerpts from the informal journal, written during the Third army's campaigns, were published posthumously today in the Saturday Evening Post. They covered only the fighting in France and Germany.

Supporting views of some other officers and observers who have written of the Third army's historic dash across France as far as Verdun in August, 1944, Patton asserted his forces would have pushed across the Rhine in 10 days had it not been for a change in high command strategy "implemented, in my opinion, by General Montgomery."

"The twenty-ninth of August (1944) was, in my opinion, one of the critical days in this war," Patton wrote. "It was evident at this time that there was no real threat against us, as long as we did not allow ourselves to be stopped by imaginary enemies."

He reported ordering attacks on Verdun and Commercy, then continued:

"Everything seemed rosy, when suddenly it was reported to me that 140,000 gallons of gas we were to get that day had not arrived. At first I thought it was a back-handed way of slowing up the Third army. I later found that this was not the case, but that the delay was due to a change of plan by the high command, implemented, in my opinion, by General Montgomery.

"It was my opinion that this was the momentous error of the war."

Writing about the same matter after hostilities had ended in Germany, the general said:

"I feel that had I been permitted to go all out, the war would have ended sooner and more lives would have been saved. Particularly I think this statement applies to the time when, in the early days of September, we were halted, owing to the desire or necessity, on the part of General Eisenhower in backing Montgomery's move to the north.

"At that time there was no question of doubt that we could have gone through and on across the Rhine within 10 days. This would have saved a great many thousand men."

CONDUCTORS IN MEETING HERE

Erie Men from Two Divisions Study Ways To Improve Passenger Service.

Approximately 40 passenger conductors and trainmen from the Erie Railroad's Marion and Kent Divisions will attend a series of group conference meetings to be held tomorrow and Thursday in Marion at the Erie station to explore and examine all possible means of better serving travelers on trains operated in six states by this road.

This conference is the second of several such meetings to be presented during the next five weeks at Port Jervis, N. Y., Hornell, N. Y., Buffalo, N. Y., Jersey City, N. J., Cleveland, O., Meadville, Pa., and Youngstown, O. The first was concluded today in Huntington, Ind.

These gatherings, held annually, comprise a vital part of the system-wide continuous training program sponsored by the Erie for its employees. Last year the conferences were attended by more than 400 Erie employees.

Conducted in cooperation with the local superintendent and trainmaster, by Alfred Fynn, general passenger agent, and Charles D Mee, chief clerk, passenger accounting department, both of Cleveland, these well-attended conferences provide an open forum discussion of ways to improve travelers' service.

An important topic to be discussed at the Marion meetings is the cultivation of travelers' good will through a friendly, courteous attitude of employees toward the public. A second topic concerns today's travel market and its relation to the improved diesel-ized passenger service on faster schedules recently inaugurated by the Erie. All through-line passenger trains on this pioneer line are now powered by 4500 h. p Diesel locomotives, which carry modernized coaches and renovated diners. New, lightweight all-room sleeping cars, now on order, will be placed in service later.

Attention will also be devoted at the conference to efficient ticket handling methods and proper application of regulations contained in the Conductor's Manual. Educational exhibits and instruction charts covering ticket and accounting forms are used.

G.O.P. Leaders To Meet Nov. 7 for Aid Parley

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—House Republican leaders arranged today to meet on Nov. 7 to plot the course they will follow in acting on President Truman's special session program of emergency foreign aid and price stabilization.

The date picked by House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) precedes the opening of the special session by 10 days and the joint foreign relations committee sessions by three days.

Martin set his meeting a full week ahead of that scheduled by Sen Taft (R-Ohio) for his senate Republican policy committee, which has been called to convene on Nov. 14 for the same purpose.

Your Good Health

A Serious Burn on the Hand.

All severe burns should be promptly and properly treated and nowhere is this more important, to avoid scarring and loss of function than in cases of burns of the hand.

Of course, burns vary in their extent and severity. A first degree burn which causes nothing more than redness of the skin is no problem. About all that is necessary is the application of some soothing ointment to relieve the pain and burning sensation.

A second degree burn is one which causes blistering. Such burns may be treated in various ways and may usually heal without giving any trouble.

A third degree burn is a totally different matter. This is one which extends into the deeper tissues under the skin. Such extensive burns present many problems in treatment, all of which must be dealt with efficiently and skillfully if permanent damage is to be avoided.

The general care of the patient is of first concern since burns which are at all severe may produce a state of shock in which there are a rapid pulse, lowering of the blood pressure, and other symptoms of general failure. The shock may be combated by using injections of fluids into a vein, or injections of whole blood or the fluid part of blood into a vein.

The hand is very sensitive, and if may be necessary in cases of hand burns to give a patient some quieting or pain-relieving drug. Sometimes pain is so great that the patient is given an anesthetic to put him to sleep before the burn is treated.

Treatment of the burn is aimed at keeping down infection which, if it occurs, delays healing and results in more damage to tendons and joints than the burn itself.

To this end, the burned area is first carefully cleaned with soap and water, using gauze sponges on the unburned areas and cotton on the burned places. This cleansing is very important and should be attempted only by a doctor.

In general, it is not advisable to break open the blisters which are present. Care is taken not to injure or damage any skin which may still be alive. To aid in warding off infections, only sterile materials should be used in this cleansing process.

The next step in the treatment is to apply a dressing covered with such things as petrolatum, boric acid ointment, or penicillin ointment. Then several other layers of gauze are applied and some padding and a firm bandage put on, preferably an elastic bandage.

It is also suggested that a plaster cast or plaster splint be employed to keep the wrist straight.

In putting on this dressing, the hand should be in a position with the fingers gently bent and the thumb turned slightly inward. It may be advisable to keep the arm raised to prevent swelling of the tissues.

After seven to ten days, this bandage is removed, and dead tissue is cut away and, if necessary, a skin graft is done. It is believed that with this type of treatment, the formation of excessive amounts of scar tissue can be prevented and what is known as contracture or contracting of the tissues, which results in a permanently deformed and stiffened hand, avoided.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. N.: Will you please tell me something about gas on the stomach?

Answer: The formation of large amounts of gas in the bowel may be due to a number of causes, one of the most common being gallbladder infection. Constipation is also a cause. Eating foods which contain too much starch, and sweets might result in the formation of a great deal of gas.

An examination should be made by a physician, to determine the cause of the trouble; then it can be eliminated.

"FRIENDSHIP" TRAIN SET FOR FOOD-GATHERING TRIP

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 — A "Friendship Train" will make a west-to-east crossing of the country next month under sponsorship of the Citizens Food committee to collect gifts of food for Europe.

The freight train will leave Los Angeles on Nov. 7 and will reach New York City 11 days later after making stops to pick up carloads of food at more than 40 cities along the way.

Chairman Charles Luckman of the food committee said yesterday the project is intended to dramatize this country's contribution to European relief.

Byrnes Refutes Reports of Truman Disapproving His Work at Moscow

This is a serialization of James F. Byrnes' "Speaking Frankly" —six of fifteen chapters of the book published Oct. 15, 1947, by Harper & Brothers. Copyright, 1947, by Donald S. Russell, trustee of the James F. Byrnes Foundation.

By JAMES F. BYRNES

DURING our stay in Paris, I was to experience one more demonstration that bipartisanship does not necessarily insure unity. Long before the Paris meeting, I had learned that the most conscientious effort to make a just peace would not receive united support at home. I have already reported the criticism I encountered when, at London, the council of foreign ministers could not agree. I was prepared for that. But I was not prepared for some of the criticism I received when, at Moscow, we did agree.

The story of the Moscow meeting, I have told; the long negotiations, the final session which ended at 3:30 a. m., our take-off for the United States four hours later at 7:30 a. m., Dec. 27. My statement that we were thoroughly exhausted when we landed at Washington at noon on the twenty-ninth will be fully understood. Nevertheless, I went directly to the state department and to work.

Upon asking when I could see the President, an employe at the White House told me the President was cruising down the Potomac and expected to remain on his boat for several days. I requested that a message be sent to him saying that I had returned and would like to report to him at his convenience and that I expected to make a radio speech the following evening about the work of the conference.

Shortly thereafter, I received an invitation to visit the President that afternoon on his boat, which was anchored near Quantico. I took a plane and reached Quantico about 4:30.

President Approves

After I had reported to the President on what had happened at the conference, he expressed wholehearted approval of my action. He asked me to remain for dinner. There were present, as I recall, members of the President's staff who frequently accompanied him on such trips: Admiral Leahy, General Vaughan, Clark Clifford, Charles Ross, Matthew Connelly, General Graham, and Judge Rosenman, who was working on a speech the President was to deliver the following week.

While we were at dinner, the President asked me to repeat what I had said to him about the conference, and I did so. From time to time the President interrupted to express his approval. There was no expression of disapproval or approval by any other except Admiral Leahy, who said that my report made him feel much better about the situation but that he did not approve of the agreement on Romania and Bulgaria. I reminded him that both of us had been at Yalta and at Potsdam when President Roosevelt and President Truman had entered into agreements on the same subjects, seeking to establish provisional governments that would include representation of all political parties and that would provide for free elections and the four freedoms. These agreements, I added, had not been kept by either of the two states or by the Soviets. The Moscow agreement, I told him, was simply one more effort to achieve the objective of the Yalta and Potsdam agreements. At Moscow we had secured what previously the Soviets had opposed — the agreement to send Ambassador Harriman, Ambassador Clark Kerr, and Mr. Vishinsky to Romania to seek ways to carry out the agreement. The effort might not be successful, I said, but the result could not be any worse than the previous situation. I asked what he would have done. I received no information.

Returns to Washington

Immediately after dinner I asked to be excused because I had to fly back to Washington; because of the rain and sleet then falling I feared a low ceiling at Washington. There was no further discussion of our foreign problems.

The President invited me to come back New Year's Eve and spend the night on the ship, and I promised to return.

When I went ashore I found that the sleet had covered the wings of my plane and it was impossible to use it. Therefore I had to return to Washington by automobile. The marine officer who kindly offered to drive me to Washington found he had undertaken an exceedingly difficult task as the sleet kept all the windows and windshield of the car covered with ice. Consequently, it was late when I reached home. That automobile trip following the long journey from Moscow, made Dec. 29 a far from perfect day. But when I walked in the door at home, Mrs. Byrnes handed me a message that gave the day at least a perfect ending. It was from my thoughtful friend and counselor, Cordell Hull. It said:

My dear Jim: My heartiest congratulations on the splendid progress made at the Moscow Conference. Understanding, confidence, friendliness and the whole spirit of international cooperation have been greatly improved by the work of this conference.

Reports to People

The next night I made to the people my radio report on the conference. I explained the agreements reached and observed that they "should bring hope to the war-weary people of many lands." I also expressed the belief that "the meeting in Moscow did serve to bring about better understanding."

When I returned to the President's ship, the night of the thirty-first, he congratulated me on the report. He said the party on board had listened the previous night and considered it a convincing statement.

Within a few days, however, one or two newspaper columnists wrote that the President had wired me to come to his ship and had expressed strong disapproval of my agreements. They stated that there was ill feeling between the President and the secretary of state. There was a general understanding among the newspaper correspondents that the information came from the White House and critics felt encouraged to attack me when it was rumored that the criticisms were shared by the President's official family.

Never Disapproved

The fact is the President did not on that occasion nor at any other time express to me disapproval of any position I took at the meetings of the council of foreign ministers or any other meetings. Nor did he ever express to me disapproval of any statement I made on our foreign policy.

In the President's letter to Stalin written before the Moscow Conference, the President approved most of the proposals agreed to at Moscow.

My experience with the Moscow agreements demonstrated that in pursuit of a truly national foreign policy one has to be prepared for criticism from both the right and the left. Had these agreements been as favorable to the Soviet Union as some critics have charged, the Soviets would not have violated them. And the fact that ever since then we have been protesting against these violations indicates that they were in the best interests of the liberated states.

However, the person or persons inspiring the stories of dissension between the President and myself continued their efforts. In at least one press conference the President denied such dissension, but the stories persisted. A man who holds public office learns to disregard misrepresentations, but I admit these untrue stories did not make life any easier for me in the strenuous days of early 1946.

Another political battle fought by Mr. Byrnes while he was secretary of state began when Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace made a speech in Madison Square Garden in September, 1946, sharply criticizing our foreign policy. Within a week, the battle was over. Mr. Wallace had resigned from the cabinet, and Mr. Byrnes was continuing his work at the peace conference in Paris. The first complete revelation of what happened during that week, including the transcript of a teletype conversation between Paris and the White House, is in the next installment of "Speaking Frankly," which will be published tomorrow.

TRUMAN VIEWS BERLIN RUINS. Byrnes, and Admiral William D. Leahy. Here, they drive along the Wilhelmstrasse with the gutted shell of the Reichschancellery to their right (in background).

What do these Business Men have in common?

Like all other businessmen, large or small, they depend upon efficient railroad transportation to bring them the goods they need to keep their business thriving.

To keep America "in business" with progressive, low-cost transportation, the railroads must match the steady growth of American industry. But here are the obstacles which must be overcome:

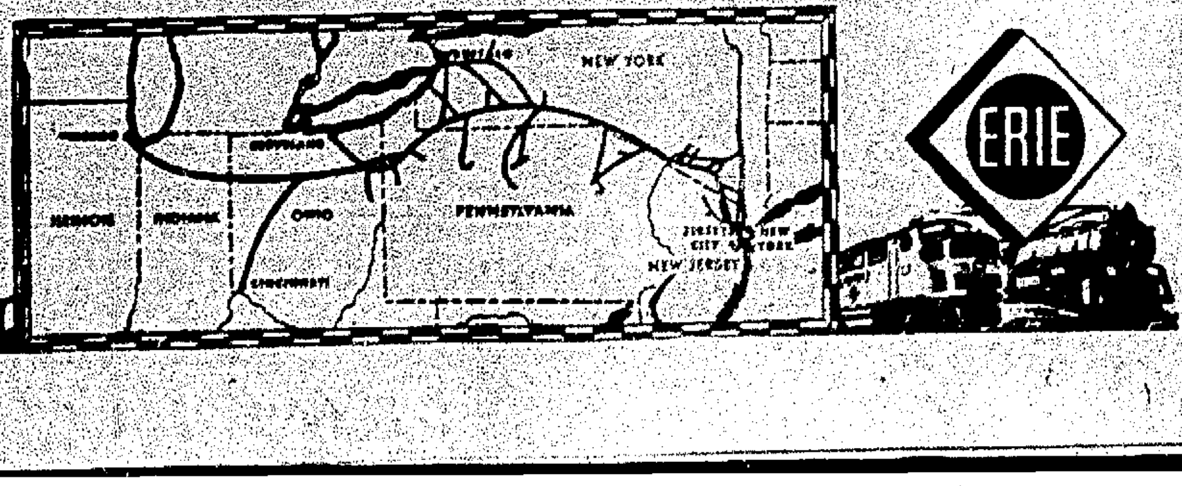

Since 1939 payrolls are up more than 60.7%
Costs of supplies and materials are up 87.7%
Freight rate increases average only 20.0%

Under these circumstances—even with the recent emergency 10% freight rate increase, and even though they are carrying the largest volume of freight in history—the railroads expect to earn only about 3% on their investment in 1947.

Yet to exist as a self-supporting enterprise —to provide for expansion and growth, most people agree that any business must earn at least 6%.

Your railroads are now asking for the opportunity to earn that 6%, so that they can provide America with continued, improved service.

'Round and 'Round It Goes

THE house committee on un-American activities enters a new phase of its Hollywood inquiry with the calling of uncooperative witnesses. The committee drew a tartar in its first witness in this category, Writer John Howard Lawson refused to say whether he is or ever has been a Communist and asked the committee what it proposes to do about it. Now there probably will be a contempt charge and perhaps months or even years of litigation.

What the committee is seeking is enough evidence to justify outlawing the Communist party. What it wants from Hollywood is evidence that subversive propaganda is on tap at the fountainhead of the film industry. Under the circumstances, no Hollywood communist, if such a creature there be, will admit his party affiliation. It's also the privilege of any good American to remain silent when asked his party affiliation. The Communists, being a legal party under our system, are merely availing themselves of that privilege.

So a vicious circle ensues: the Communist party is legal; the Communists won't squeal to help outlaw it; the committee issues contempt citations, the communists go to court and stand on their rights—because the Communist party is legal. Every turn of the wheel brings up the phrase, "The Communist party is legal."

No Clear Majority

FORGET the tragic details of French politics and mark this fact: that no party has a clear majority. If de Gaulle sets up a new government, he will have to do it with the assistance of other political parties.

There must be a coalition to give France a government, and the coalition will be at the mercy of its most dissident elements, as coalitions always are.

It means the French people will be manhandled by a minority, and if they aren't lucky it may mean they will fall into the outstretched hands of the Communists.

But don't imagine this condition is peculiar to France. It is present in Great Britain, where a dissident minority of near-Communists is in a position to dictate terms to the Attlee government. And it is still present in the United States.

Under Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman, the Democrats never have had a clear majority. They organized and ran the government by combining an assortment of dissident minorities, ranging from the Ku Klux reactionaries of the deep South to the pinkos of the urban North. Spokesmen for these minorities consistently bellowed in government councils out of all proportion to their following; they claimed and were able to prove that if they weren't appeased they'd pull out of the coalition and leave the Democratic party high and dry.

Spare some pity from the poor misguided French for the poor misguided Americans, who also have had to endure the consequences of political hurly-burly that put a nation at the mercy of minorities.

Politicians Hate Criticism

MRS. ROOSEVELT is still firing away at the press muzzlers trying to worm their way into the United Nations. The free press of the United States, in its capacity as the people's trustee for the freedom of speech and press, is still grateful for her willingness to fight the dictators who'd prefer to keep all newspapers on a leash.

The fact is that all politicians hate criticism, but the smart ones try to conceal it. Criticism is the first thing they get rid of if they become tyrants. The press is the first agency they control if they become dictators.

The pattern for the relationship between public officials and the press in the United States was set in colonial days by a printer's courage in criticizing the tyranny of a British official and winning the libel trial that ensued. John Peter Zenger, the printer, risked his life to prove that public officials had no right to imprison their critics—and public officials have been trying to reverse the decision ever since.

As president of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt came close at times to letting his dislike of criticism overbalance his oath to defend the Constitution, which specifies that the right to criticize is inalienable. Some of his underlings shared his feeling, including the same Harold Ickes who now writes a newspaper column strongly critical of many politicians still in power.

Few persons are better qualified than Mrs. Roosevelt to talk about the inevitable friction between newspapers and public officials; she knew how newspaper criticism angered her husband. When she says, "But much as I hate what sometimes has been said, I must strongly defend their right to say it." Her sincerity needs no proof.

Scanning the Record

A City That's Too Big for a Circus.

THIS city of New York, famed for its magnificent contrasts, is now faced by an amusing escapade in ballyhoo. Grover Whalen, who since the glorious days of Jimmy Walker has been an eternal reception committee, now proposes to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the city by establishing a circus on Park avenue, which is the principal arterial thoroughfare. The circus will cost $2,000,000 or more.

In the first place, New York was established in 1624 as New Amsterdam by the Dutch. This fiftieth anniversary is a minor detail in its long history when Brooklyn, areas on Long Island now called Queens, and Staten Island, together with the Bronx, were all jumbled together into a huge metropolitan area, the center of which is the elongated island of Manhattan. This is called greater New York.

Not Very Neat

It is more than probable that there is nothing to celebrate, for this place has grown so large that it cannot be financed or policed or kept clean. When I was a small boy only a few areas were filthy, but vast stretches of the city were well-kept. Today even the best streets are shamelessly ill-kept and it is doubtful whether the city can ever raise the money adequately to perform its municipal functions. In fact, the only time a citizen sees any policemen is when they are on parade or occasionally at rare intersections in very busy hours when they control traffic. The patrolman on the beat, the protector of children, the guardian of the parks is, indeed, a rare bird. He often passes in an automobile which rushes about too swiftly for service to the citizens.

I walked one night this week from midtown to my home, which is in what is known as the upper Broadway section, passing drunks asleep on benches, taxis racing through the night, cars going through red lights at lonely intersections and saw not one policeman.

Just Too Big

Subsequently, I took my dog for his nocturnal run in Riverside park where peculiar men sat in dark places as they do there every night. And not a policeman. The city simply cannot afford to employ enough police to do all the jobs that used to be done. That is one of the curses of bigness.

It is this bigness that Grover Whalen wants to celebrate with a circus. The socialistically operated subway, which runs at a loss and is one of the worst means of transportation, the passengers being pushed and crowded and mauled, is what it is for lack of funds. Yet, Grover Whalen jumps up with the idea of blowing $2,000,000 in on a circus.

Even that profligacy, that lack of arithmetical realism does not bother me as much as the brutality of the idea that this city has not yet erected a memorial to its dead of World War II. If it has $2,000,000 to waste on a circus, how come tha tit has no funds to establish a lasting memorial to its sons who did not return to it from the war?

Memories Are Short

That is something that is hard to understand. The same brutal forgetfulness appears in so many cities. After every other war, the citizens hurried to erect some monument, some building, some memorial to their own who died in war. What has happened to us that we are so lax now? Does nothing grip our sentiments? Do we no longer feel kindly gentle; do we no longer possess pride? Even if the war is unpopular and was necessary, our sons did not die to be forgotten.

If the profligate city of New York can throw millions to the wind, why not erect some building, some memorial, some symbol of faith in those boys? Long ago, I had suggested that the finest thing that happened in the war was the cooperation among the three great faiths, the wonderful chaplain's services, the three-way altar at which boys of any denomination could meet their God. Why not erect such a house of God as a memorial to those who died in their youth in what they believed was God's service? Surely that is a more worthy expenditure than Grover Whalen's Park avenue circus.

Priced Out Of The Subversive Field?

The house un-American activities committee hearings on alleged communism in Hollywood has everything but a popcorn machine in the lobby.

In fact, all it needs is technicolor and a bathtub to be a typical Cecil B. DeMille production.

Yes sir, with stars like Robert Taylor and Gary Cooper making personal apperances daily, we could put in a box-office and pay off the national debt.

As it is, they can save the public a lot of money by combining Photoplay and the Congressional Record.

The committee has been informed, among other things, that most of Hollywood's high-salaried writers are in reality enemy agents. This comes as a half-surprise to the average citizen, who knew only that they weren't writers.

Incidentally, I can't help wondering about the leftist-leanings of those high-salaried scenarists. It's mighty difficult to be a full-fledged communist on a hundred thousand dollars a year.

The Show Must Go On

By Raymond Moley

THE real issue in the probe of the movies is whether pictures are to be entertainment or something else. Some of the representatives of the big companies seem to overlook this point entirely. Since they are accused of making pro-Communist pictures, they defend themselves by saying they will make anti-Communist pictures. Their pictures should be good entertainment, good recreation for the millions who are perfectly capable of getting their political education somewhere else.

This point seems to be lost in the hullabaloo going on in Washington. But the companies paid one of the most astute politicians of our time for 22 years to teach them just that. Will Hays very wisely adhered to a single policy while he headed the industry. He said that entertainment pictures—which, incidentally, are the ones under consideration before the Thomas committee—should carry the torch for no issue or "ism," however worthy. He knew, as few people could know, that a showman is not an educator, nor is he a philosopher or a political leader. If he tries to do something besides entertaining his public, he spoils both the cause and the show.

Adhered To Formula

Hence, Hays gave one answer to everyone who had an idea or crusade to put over. The entertainment film is no vehicle for propaganda. This answer was given to all such efforts, however worthy, whether they were directed at the cure of disease, the value of sunlight or the evils of drink. This argument does not apply to all pictures, of course. The motion picture is an excellent medium to teach many things. But propaganda pictures should be plainly labeled as such and should not be offered to people who pay good prices for an evening of fun, fancy or inspiration.

The war, of course, brought in a flood of propaganda. But now the time has come to get back to first principles and to release the artistic genius of writers, producers and actors for the creation of better entertainment.

This applies with special point to the group of radicals who are being exposed. Their effort to hide behind the constitutional rights is shabby business. The testimony of those who have exposed them merely reinforces what every intelligent patron of the movies has known a long time. There has been Communist propaganda inserted here and there in entertainment pictures. There also has been New Deal propaganda and anti-New Deal propaganda and pro-British and pro-French and pro-almost everything. It won't help to try to define Communist propaganda as such.

What is needed is to clear out those who have abused their positions to serve secret ends. And then the companies ought to get back on their jobs as showmen. I don't believe any of us want Menjou or Warner or Sam Goldwyn to tell us what to think. But at present prices we do have a right to ask for better actors, better plots and better writing.

One Man's Opinion

A psychologist says "Love is a mild form of insanity." But it's one of the pleasanter ways of going nuts!

And usually it's obvious. When a fellow says "I'd climb the highest mountain for you, I'd swim the widest ocean for you, I'd buy the best steak for you" . . . who needs to be told he's crazy?

But it wears off quickly. Many a man who has said he would climb the highest mountain won't even go up to close the attic window after six months.

That's when the bride can be assured that he's sane again.

That's the way it goes. He carries her over the threshold once and she carries him home for the rest of the time.

LONDON — Britain's search for oil in her home territory is being intensified. According to figures issued by the Anglo-Iranian Oil company, production of crude petroleum from the company's oilfields in the United Kingdom for 1946 was 55,387 tons. The figures show a decline of more than 16,000 tons over those of the previous year, but experts believe there are big supplies waiting to be tapped in the Midlands and other areas.

Getting Down to Business

By Joseph Alsop

TRIESTE, Oct. 28—Trieste city lies below, cheerful and bustling in the early morning sun, yet crowded threateningly close by the encircling hills, beyond which lies Yugoslav territory. Here on these rocky heights runs the border between the Soviet and the Western worlds. At the road block, two Yugoslav soldiers—Croat boys, sloppily dressed but heavily armed—lord it over a little group of peasants. And facing them are the young American troops, wonderfully smart and tough and so much bigger that they seem almost like giants, standing guard with the air of being ready for anything. This scene strikes the note of Trieste.

In all the rest of Europe, one traveler finds disaster visibly impending, while frantic American officials clutch the telegraph wires and send daily pleas to Washington not to be too little and too late for just this once. After repeatedly observing such depressing scenes, it is startling to come to Trieste, where every one has got down to business and is briskly prepared to deal with any eventuality. The state of undeclared war which is at the root of Europe's ills has been frankly recognized here. The resulting clarity of political and strategic outline is a downright relief.

What Holds Them Back

Any report on Trieste, however, brief, would be incomplete if it did not begin by giving credit where credit is due. Trieste would already have been seized by the Yugoslavs, in gross violation of every treaty obligation, if it were not for the British and American commanders here, Major Generals Terence Airey and Bryant Moore, and the remarkable group of British and Americans serving under them. These two men, their political advisers and their staffs, brilliantly checkmated the crude attempted Yugoslav coup d' etat on Sept. 15. But this is not all. They have also had the courage to interpret their rather vague directives with boldness and sound judgment in many other ways, so that underground as well as overt efforts to subjugate Trieste have been happily frustrated. For the present, at least, this is one situation which appears to be well in hand.

None the less, Trieste poses an interesting and meaningful problem. It is a problem for the reason so succinctly given in state department planner George Kennan's admirable "Mr X" article on Soviet-American relations. It proves, with finality, that there is no use making agreements or seeking agreements with the Soviets at the present juncture.

Agreement Falls To Work

With agonizing difficulty, an agreement about Trieste was reached with the Soviets last year. The agreement was that Trieste should be a free territory, with an impartial and independent governor approved by both sides. What has happened since? It has proved impossible to appoint a governor, because the Soviets would accept none but a stooge guaranteed to hand the "free territory" over to Marshal Tito at the first opportunity.

The segment of the "free territory" beyond these hills which is garrisoned by Yugoslavs has already been transformed into a part of Yugoslavia. All opposition has been crushed out, by the simple system of slicing off any heads that stick up. The usual terror has given the Communist party the usual firm grip on the area.

Meanwhile every effort is being made to infiltrate Trieste city, economically, by propaganda and by terror. As these words are written, in view of the brutal Communist kidnaping of the leading anti-Tito Slovene editor, Ursic, Generals Airey and Moore are being forced to tighten their police precautions. There is no other way to insure freedom of thought and speech, despite Foreign Minister Molotov's fine words and firm promises in Paris. Yet the Soviets would have the prize of Trieste within their hands tomorrow if any governor were now named and the British and American troops withdrew. These troops—this foreign occupation—now constitute the sole guaranty of the freedom of Trieste.

Ample for Present Needs

So long as Generals Airey and Moore are given the money, the food and the liberty of action to hold underground infiltration in check, and so long as the Kremlin wants no open war, these 10,000 British and American troops are guaranty enough. For obvious strategic and political reasons, the freedom of Trieste must be defended. Therefore, the British and American taxpayers should realize now that the occupation and the support of Trieste may have to continue for years to come. It may be expensive. But there is no use, any longer, pretending that unpleasing realities somehow can be wished or argued away.

Scots Plan Exhibit

By The Associated Press

EDINBURGH — The Scottish Council of Development and Industry is preparing to hold an exhibition of Scottish goods in the United States.

Thomas Johnston, chairman of the Scottish Tourist Board, who was asked to investigate the possibilities of staging such an exhibition during his visit to the U. S., has reported that the British Ambassador, Lord Inverchapel, and representatives of many of the Scottish Associations in the United State were "all very friendly towards the idea."

Q What about those scenes in which cowboys get behind overturned covered w and blaze away at one another, necks out a with nobody getting hurt?

A. Certainly nobody who respected Am would write or direct a scene that way

Q. Have you noticed how almost ever marine film has at least one scene in a nay Why is that?

A. Karl Marx always held that to under democracy you must get across the idea tha should be a matter of haypiles. This softe- tne populace.

Q. Who is responsible for those half-N embraces and pressure-cooker kisses in pictures?

A. Enemy propaganda! Think of the hours wasted, not to mention the woman-h Our foes know that if they could get Amer kissing like that they would have no en energy left for anything important and republic would soon crumble.

Q There is a trend in film musicals to huge settings never beheld anywhere on or sea, and in which nightclubs are as big a Yankee stadium. What of that?

CAN YOU REMEMBER - - -

Way back when the only country you ha save by means of a war was your own?

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: The only thing I can't through my head about the trouble we're ha with the Russians is what in blazes did we pect? And I don't mean to insult the Russ when I say so. They're hard to insult.

Take Stalin. Did we honestly think he going to forget a lifetime of underground r lution to suit our notion that things are pr good the way they are? Or take the rugged c acters he leans on for advice. Where did we the idea that muscle-men, knife-wielders, bo tossers and root-cellar revolutionists were g to become defenders of the American way of with sweetness and light for all and fried ch en every Sunday?

I remember once when your boy was vis us we took a little trip one Sunday to see s of his kinfolk over in the Mineral Ridge sec It never occurred to me to tip him off in adv there would be some things about these pe he should be prepared for, such as toba chewing, outside plumbing, chickens threate to come into the kitchen and indifference to niceties as grammar and clean shoes.

Consequently, the poor little fellow was ribly upset. It took me a couple of days to plain to him that the world was full of pe like that, and that his own ancestors were b that way as recently as the last generation. was part of his education. Subsequently, pointed out with pride once before, he lea to get along fine with such people. If it ha been for me, he might never have known existed until caught unawares under more portant circumstances. But our American sta men aren't equipped with uncles to get t straightened out.

It seems to me that our big wheels are als being caught unawares. If they run into sich as they did in England and France earlier in lifetime, they are shocked pink. If they run grafters in China, they throw up their hands cry it's no use, the Chinese are all crook If they learn what they should have known, the Italians have about as much sense of poli stability as a rabbit, that the French ar grateful for favors received, that the Dutch hard-headed boys with a great fondness money, or that the Russians still have the m yard on their boots and the stains of revolu on their hands, they turn pale and ask the co mon people of the United States (that's w what can they do when the cards are stac against them.

Well, one thing they could do is face life Portia—specifically, face the fact that the in which the cards are stacked against the tougher than playing flinch with their Sophronia. If I'm not surprised because the sian Reds are being natural I'm darned if I see why people who do the official talking behalf should be surprised, unless—and now coming to the point—those officials are too m to be representing the United States in first place.

Could it be that most of our diplomatic tro comes from sending our boys to mill when should be sending our grown men who k from hard experience that the moon isn't m out of green cheese? Give my regards to folks. I have the Thanksgiving turkey com up in the back yard, putting the finish touches on him.

Cleveland Plant Lists $75,000 Fire Damage

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND Oct 28—Firemen poked about today in charcoal heaps for a clue to the cause of a five-alarm fire that damaged the Tropical Paint and Oil Co plant in the west end to an extent estimated by Fire Chief James E. Granger at $75 000.

About 80 firemen battled the blaze and had it under control within an hour after the first alarm sounded yesterday.

The fire rocketed cinders and sparks as it fed on asphalt and other bituminous materials, but newer buildings comprising the bulk of the factory were saved.

Four men were making crystalline cleaning compound on the second floor of the building when the fire broke out. They made a safe exit

Zanesville "Suicide" Faces Check Charge

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 28—A supposed Zanesville, O., suicide, found here by police eight months after his apparent death, today faced charges of passing a forged check for $526 on the Cambridge, O., National bank.

Columbus Police Detective E. F. Mathias said 46-year-old Harold S. Huffman, former Columbus businessman, had waived extradition to the Ohio capital and would be returned to face the check charge.

On Feb. 5 Zanesville police found man's clothing on the "Y" bridge spanning the Muskingum river. In a coat pocket was a note reading "this is the best way." The clothes were identified as Huffman's.

Mathias said police recently received a "tip" Huffman and his wife were living in Washington and Huffman was working in a clothing store under the name of Harold Sprague.

Not until "Sprague" was confronted by a former business partner, said the Columbus detective, would he admit he was Huffman.

COLISEUM

available for horse shows or stock expositions.

The coliseum would be open to city and county civic and sporting events on a year around basis, as plans include steam heating. Both high school and professional basketball attractions, municipal events such as concerts and lectures could be held there with ample seating capacity, a factor lacking in a majority of auditoriums or gymnasiums in this area.

The building obviously would add greatly to the activities of the annual county fair week, providing additional space for junior fair activities and for livestock shows.

Proposed Location

Location of the coliseum at the fairgrounds was considered a logical place by Agricultural society sponsors in that the site is already available together with ample parking facilities. Suggested location of the building is in the northwest section of the fairgrounds.

Should voters approve the Memorial in the November referendum, contract for the structure could be let without delay and barring unforseen delays, the coliseum made ready by basketball season next year, according to Frank M. Foster, president of the Marion County Agricultural society.

Governor Going to Strike Scene

get a contract from the company.

Previous demands for an election made by the union had failed to receive attention by the company. Although the strike has been on for 10 weeks with no strong prospects for settlement in sight and in face of last week's situation, Duck still maintained the UAW represented a majority of the production workers. No agreement, however, was announced concerning an election.

Yesterday's Meeting

The company and union met for the first time around a conference table yesterday in the presence of a federal conciliator, Horace Vokoun of Washington, D. C., and state officials.

After nearly four hours of proposals and counterproposals the meeting adjourned at about 4 p. m. with both parties reporting some success had been achieved.

A joint statement issued by the two parties said, "We have come to areas of agreement, but not to ful lagreement. In an endeavor to reach full agreement, negotiations will be continued at 1 p. m. Tuesday.

Plant To Stay Closed

No further statements were made by either the company or the union other than the plant would remain closed while negotiations continued.

During the recess in the Galion negotiations and while the Mt. Gilead meeting was in progress approximately 75 deputies carrying sidearms patroled the streets of Galion last night, especially the areas around public buildings.

Mt. Gilead Meeting

Mt. Gilead workers for North Electric offered CIO-UAW representatives scant room for optimism over organization of a Mt. Gilead local in last night's meeting.

While armed city and county deputies patrolled areas where union cars were parked, Edward Duck, international representative for the auto workers, ran into an hour's session of hostile comment from a few of his 150 listeners.

Duck spent 60 minutes discussing contracts and offering to return for another session if the workers wanted to request a collective bargaining election from the company.

His offer was not taken and Mrs. Paul Wolcott, a shop worker, started the floor comment with this assertion:

"We're not afraid of the company officials because they have never given us cause. We're not afraid of the CIO or you, and you've given us cause."

This drew a storm of applause, which broke out again when Marie Hogan, another worker, shouted: "We don't want the union."

Duck said: "If you want a union—this union or any other—that's your privilege and if you don't want one, that's your privilege, too."

Two principal points of interest dominated the floor comment.

The audience, chiefly women, wanted to know about the 12-hour disturbance and siege last Wednesday at the Galion home plant. Duck replied, "you don't need guards here. We're not going to do anything if you don't want a union."

Bring Up Kenton Incident

Then the women turned to last Wednesday morning's incident at the North Electric plant at Kenton, where a band of masked men wreaked considerable damage after breaking into the plant.

Duck disclaimed knowledge of the raid, saying his union had no members in Kenton, but that the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers was attempting to organize the Kenton plant.

The international representative, in the intervals between caustic comments, frequently denounced communism, contending such ideology was completely absent in the UAW Ohio region, but said it was present in some ranks of the union.

"The only reason Communists are not taking over unions," he told the workers, "is because there are enough decent people in there to fight them."

Occasionally Duck referred slightingly to the North Electric Co., calling it "a penny arcade" because of one-cent to five-cent raises."

From time to time these references brought from women declarations "we don't like smear stuff."

There were no official union comments on the progress of the Galion negotiations, nor did the company disclose what "areas of agreement" had been reached.

Marion Men Bound Over

While the union and management were swapping proposals upstairs in city council chambers, Mayor William Amann was hearing testimony resulting in the binding over to the Crawford county grand jury of three Marion men allegedly involved in the flare up of last Wednesday.

Bound over on charges of operating a motor vehicle without the owners consent were Walter E. Foust 29, Richard E. Gibson, 28, and James A. Wilson, 29. Mayor Amann set their bond at $1,000 each. All entered a plea of "not guilty". They were taken to county jail at Bucyrus.

The men were charged with seizing a North company truck from two company employes last Wednesday morning. The employes, Richard Lyons, 25, and Jack Mathias, 23, as witnesses yesterday, both claimed they identified the men. Identification was also made by Police Chief James L. Walker and patrolman Harrison Bowers.

Thomas C. Fetter of Marion represented the UAW members while City Solicitor Robert Moulton prosecuted the case. The affidavit was signed by Lloyd Bender, a vice president of the North Electric company.

Grand Jury in Session

The Crawford county grand jury which convened Monday at Bucyrus may take up the case today among the 22 being presented by county prosecutor Ben Scanlon.

The hearing which opened at 2 p. m. lasted for more than two hours while City Solicitor Moulton endeavored to established the identity of the men to be charged with taking the company vehicle.

Mathias and Lyon, neither present as the hearing opened, were summoned to appear as Attorney Fetter charged that identification of the Marion men had not been established and the city solicitor was forced to send Crawford County Sheriff Ralph Schreck to bring the two company men into Mayor Amann's court to establish positive identification. Both men identified all three. Mathias however showed uncertainty about Gibson, finally testifying in the affirmative.

Yesterday officers from sheriff's departments in Marion and Morrow counties responded to call from Crawford County Sheriff Ralph Schreck for possible assistance when negotiations opened at Galion. The call was answered because sheriff's forces are obligated to respond to a call from another sheriff anywhere in the state, it was reported at the Marion county sheriff's office today.

UN TURNS TO KOREA WITH BATTLE SEEN

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 28—Russia called on the United Nations today to order withdrawal of all Russian and American troops from Korea by next Jan. 1.

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 28—The United Nations turned today to U. S. Secretary of State Marshall's third major proposal—the independence of Korea—with prospects of another long and bitter conflict between the United States and Russia.

The Korean question was listed for the 57-nation political committee along with revision of the Italian peace treaty, but it was understood agreement had been reached among delegates to put off the treaty debate until later in the general assembly's session.

Marshall assigned John Foster Dulles to debate the Korean issue for the United States, and the Republican leader was ready to deliver an opening speech defining the American position.

Of Marshall's other proposals, the assembly already has voted to set up a UN border commission in an attempt to solve the Balkan troubles. His plan for revision of UN machinery is now being worked out in a drafting committee.

Dulles was understood to be basing his speech on the main points of the U. S.-Korean resolution which calls for Russia and the United States, the occupying powers, to hold elections in their respective zones by next March 31 under UN supervision.

NINE JURORS SEATED IN SLAYING TRIAL

By The United Press

BELLEFONTAINE, Oct. 28—A second venire for 40 persons was issued today in the first degree murder trial of Roger "Tug" Williams after eight women and one man were tentatively seated as jurors.

Judge Elmer L. Godwin directed the jury commissioners to draw the 40 additional names after an original list of 75 was nearly exhausted when the court adjourned late yesterday.

Williams is under indictment for the murder last May 28 of Minta Webb Rothwell, 25, of Kenton, his former housekeeper who was shot to death at an Indian lake restaurant.

Attorneys Francis Durbin and Ernest Navarre of Lima have entered a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity for Williams.

The state's prosecutors allege that Williams fired two shots into the woman's body when she refused a date for the evening of the slaying.

GI'S REPORTED BEING KILLED AT TRIESTE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—Rep. Marion T. Bennett (R-Mo.) declared today that "many" American soldiers have been killed or wounded by Communists in the Trieste area behind a "brass curtain of American military censorship."

The Missouri lawmaker, returned recently from a six-week tour of Europe and the Near East, said there have been "incidents of armed aggression by the Communists" against United States forces since they moved into the former Italian territory, bordering on Yugoslavia. Trieste now is a free state.

"These acts have resulted in the death or wounding of many American soldiers," Bennett added in a statement issued before he left for his home in Springfield, Mo. "I have the names and identifications of the incidents as furnished me by our military intelligence.

"In Europe they call it a 'cold war'. It is war and how soon, or if, it will engulf the whole world, no men outside of the Kremlin can say.

"The brass curtain of American military censorship has done a remarkable job of keeping from the American people the seriousness of the situation at Trieste."

The Army declined comment on Bennett's statement.

Girl Mountain Climber Refuses To Leave Hurt Friend; Both Die

FRANCES B. KRAUSS
Dies With Heroic Friend

By The United Press

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 28 — A mountain guide told today how a young woman insisted on staying with her companion, injured in a fall down a snowbank, until cold and fatigue loosened their hold on a rock and both plunged to their deaths at the bottom of a ravine.

Rescue workers recovered the battered and frozen bodies of Frances B. Krauss, 31, Baltimore Md., and Mildred Hartig, 26 Evansville, Ind., yesterday. Both women were secretaries at the Los Alamos atomic project.

They were killed in a fall into an isolated ravine at the base of Truchas peak where they had spent the weekend mountain climbing.

Relatives of the women were en route here to claim their bodies.

"Accidental Death"

A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death after testimony indicated that the women died from a combination of injuries and exposure to below-freezing temperatures.

Sam Martin, a mountaineer and farmer who lives at Truchas, N. M., at the base of the second highest mountain in the state, said the women hired him as their guide for the hiking party.

He said they were inching their way down the icy mountain side and fell several hundred feet.

"She tried to cross a snow bank up there," Martin said "I tried to warn her it wasn't safe, but I was too late. She slipped and fell. She must have gone down several hundred feet before she landed on a sharp boulder which stuck out from the side and stopped her fall.

"The other woman, Miss Hartig, and I made our way down to where Miss Krauss was lying.

"Hurt, but Still Alive"

"She was hurt very badly, but she was still alive."

Martin said Miss Hartig insisted on remaining with her friend while he went for help. He said he built a fire on the little projection and made them as comfortable as possible. It was a very precarious perch, he said, and Miss Hartig had to hold on to the cold rocks to keep from sliding into the chasm.

I didn't like the idea of leaving them there," he said, "but I knew that the only chance was to get help as quickly as I could."

He said he returned with a rope late Saturday afternoon but that the two women, apparently numbed by the cold, had slipped from the crag and plunged into the ravine below.

The bodies were located yesterday by Army searching parties from Los Alamos and radio-equipped state police searchers.

legislation on the airport acted on the following resolutions and ordinances:

Authorization to safety-service director to renew the city contract with Columbus for care custody and confinement in the Columbus workhouse of prisoners convicted of violation of state laws and city ordinances. Cost to Marion was specified at $1 a day per prisoner.

Resolution authorizing deposits of $800,000 derived from sale of airport and sewer projects bonds in National City bank at one half of one per cent interest. Funds at present are inactive and will not be expended for designated purposes within the next six months.

Authorization to city solicitor to settle and compromise claim of Marion city hospital against Mrs. Lilly Greenawalt of near Cardington, for the sum of $900.

Authorization to service director to contract with relief agencies for hospital service for recipients of relief. Under recent state legislation the city is empowered to file for this service.

Ordinance authorizing special assessments for sewer improvements in Bennett street, Fies avenue, Nye street and Glad street. Improvements include sanitary sewer construction in Bennett street from Clinton to Latourette street, in Fies avenue from Bennett south to Columbia street, in Nye street from Bennett street to Curve street and in Glad street from Bennett to Curve street.

Makes Safety Plea

Earl J. Camp, of 286 Oak street appeared before council seeking city prosecution of motorists who disregard railroad crossing watchmen's warning signals.

Camp, watchman for the Erie at the Prospect street crossing represented the crossing watchmens association which comprises approximately 65 members employed by the four railroads serving Marion.

Camp complained that no action was being taken to prosecute "constant violation" of warning signals given by crossing watchmen.

"Motorists," he said, "drive right through in spite of our signals and no action is taken whatsoever to stop them." He wanted to know if the city had an ordinance to cover the situation.

He was told by Police Prosecutor John Watters that the city was helpless unless the driver of the car in question could be identified. Securing of the license number is not enough Watters said as no evidence as to who was driving the car could be gathered through the registration number, and thus the city could not prosecute. Watters told the watchman that the city would most certainly act if identification of the violator was furnished.

A petition seeking resumption of bus service in the city to Toledo, Blake, and Avondale avenues on the Silver and Lee street circuit was presented by Carl Rorick, councilman second ward. The petition bore 238 signatures and was referred to the Utility committee for investigation.

GROWING AIR FLEET SEEKS ALASKA PLANE

By The Associated Press

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Oct. 28—Plagued by continuing bad weather, a steadily growing fleet of air and surface craft set out again today in search of a missing Pan American World Airways clipper—spurred by new unconfirmed reports of smoke and flares near the Alaskan - British Columbia border.

As all earlier clues to the fate of the four-engined DC-4 which disappeared Sunday with 18 passengers and crewmen aboard proved unfruitful, the Coast Guard announced receipt of reports of smoke on Dundas island, 55 miles southeast of Ketchikan, and of flares on Graham island, just south of the Alaska-British Columbia border. Rescue ships were assigned both areas.

The weather bureau forecast continuing low visibility and some rain, conditions which hampered considerably yesterday's search of higher mountain elevations along the coast.

Marie Antoinette's complaint about the many sizes and shapes of handkerchiefs is said to have resulted in a law decreeing that all handkerchiefs should be square.

STANISLAW MIKOLAJZYK

FOE OF POLISH REDS REPORTED IN SWEDEN

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 28—A Polish Peasant party leader here said today that Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, wartime leader of Poland's government-in-exile, had reached Stockholm, Sweden, in his flight from his Communist-dominated homeland.

The spokesman, Francis J. Wilk, editor of a Polish paper here, said the news of Mikolajczyk's arrival had been obtained from "a certain authoritative source."

He added no word had been received as to Mikolajczyk's next move, but exiled Poles expressed belief that he would try to reach Britain or the United States.

Mikolajczyk fled from Poland late last week, apparently in fear of his life. His wife has been living in London since the peasant party leader left here more than two years ago to participate in formation of a provisional government of national unity in Poland.

Both the British foreign office and home office said they were ignorant of Mikolajczyk's whereabouts.

Exiled leaders of the Peasant parties of several European nations were reported here planning to inaugurate a thorough going anti-Communist propaganda campaign as soon as Mikolajczyk reaches London or Washington.

The Swedish foreign at Stockholm said at 11:45 GMT (6:45 a. m. EST) today it had no knowledge of whereabouts of Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, leader of the opposition Polish Peasant party who fled country late last week.

END ALL CONTROLS, CHURCHILL DEMANDS

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 28—Winston Churchill called upon the British Labor government today to follow the lead of the United States in removing price controls and to toss aside Socialist planning which he said was holding up national economic recovery.

Making his fourth attempt to unseat the Labor government by parliamentary motion, the opposition leader declared that nationalization of basic industries had failed and weakened the nation in time of economic crisis.

"I feel fortified by what has happened in the United States," he declared, adding:

"The sovereign remedy to our present ills and darkening misfortunes is to set the people free."

Nationalization a Failure

"Nationalization has proved a failure," he told the house of commons. "Dear food, dear coal—and soon dearer transport—grievously weaken our competitive powers in foreign markets."

With Churchill leading the attack, the Conservative party mustered its forces for an assault on the Labor government's legislative program for the coming year, which calls for further nationalization of vital industries and curtailment of the powers of the house of lords. This program was outlined last week by King George VI in a speech—prepared by the Labor government—opening the new session of parliament.

Offer Amendment

Churchill spoke in connection with a Conservative amendment to the king's speech. The amendment voiced "regret that the gracious speech, while clearly revealing the intention of your majesty's government to continue their partisan policies, gives no assurance of the national leadership, the administrative competence, or the measures necessary to meet the economic crisis and so give relief to your people from their ever increasing hardship."

Passage of the amendment, unlikely in view of the large Labor majority in the house of commons, would be tantamount to a vote of "no confidence" and would force Prime Minister Attlee's cabinet to resign.

Harding To Play Here, St. Mary Away Friday

Prexies To Entertain Circleville in Homecoming Tilt; Injuries Riddle Marion

Homecoming opponents for Harding gridders Friday night will be the Circleville Tigers, who have, like the Presidents, won five and lost two games this year.

Until two weeks ago, the Circleville Tigers were riding high in the unbeaten, untied class, but a Washington eleven tumbled them, 1-0, and last week Greenfield repeated 25-13 as the Tiger machine fell apart at mid-season.

The Presidents suffered a mid-season slump last week when a pepped-up Ashland squad gunning for the Ed Lee Pitt gunned for Ohio State, edged the locals, 20-19.

But the Prexy machine did not fall apart Thursday night; it merely stalled out in the tracks of the Ashland Limited's second section long enough to get bumped a point.

By Friday night the Prexy machine ought to be refueled and ready to roll Circleville all the way home.

The Circleville five-game winning streak started with a 20-0 knockout of Columbus Rosary, and then the Tigers added Hillsboro 19-7, Westerville, 18-12, Washington C. H. 27-7, and Newcomerstown, 18-13. The Tigers have stretched out a total of 115 points while holding their seven opponents to 88.

Harding Coach Pete Howison calls the game a tough one. "All of them are tough," he said.

Regular guard Dick Corwin, out of the Ashland fracas with a leg injury, will be out for the rest of the season, Howison said. Corwin is suffering from a blood clot in his arm.

Jack Hoffman suffered a bursted ear drum in the game when he was kicked in the head. He has been bothered with shoulder trouble for several weeks. He may see action in the Circleville game Friday night, as might Jack Bishop, who has been taking it easy in practice this week after getting his knee injured last Thursday night.

Irish To Travel to Sunbury; Wagner and Murphy on Injured List.

Irish gridders will play their last away game of the season Friday when they travel to Sunbury to meet the twice-beaten Sunbury Tigers.

While not ignoring Friday's tilt with Sunbury, the Irish are pointing for their season finale with Mt. Gilead the following week. That game will give the Irish the Mid-State league crown if they win. The Mt. Gilead Indians have dropped all three of their league games, while St. Mary leads the league with three wins.

Sunbury was a member of the league until last spring when they dropped out because of conflicting basketball schedules. Last year St. Mary took the Tigers 19-13.

Still on the injured list after last week's Richwood fray are end Tom Wagner and halfback Ed Murphy. Wagner suffered a hip injury in the game, and Murphy's knee was injured.

Irish Coach Gene Fetter said that he would schedule light scrimmages only in practice sessions this week to give the whole team a rest after the rugged Richwood battle.

The Sunbury Tigers have played eight games this season—the extra game was staged as a benefit to help pay for new equipment.

They opened their season with a 20-14 loss to Granville, came back to tie Columbus Rosary, 6-6, and then Johnstown, 40-7, and were edged out by Mt. Gilead, 14-13. They have not been defeated since then. They took Cardington, 26-0, the Delaware Willis Reserves, 25-6, the Harley Academy 13-6, and Centerburg, 29-6.

ILLINOIS, MICHIGAN TO MEET SATURDAY

Rivals Since 1898, They'll Battle for 33rd Time.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 28—The Illinois-Michigan football test at Champaign Saturday has the aura of tenseness and expectancy which has clung throughout the great gridiron rivalry between the two schools.

They will battle for the 33rd time in a series which, with the exception of 1923 has run unbroken since 1919. The inaugural game was in 1898, and in the first five encounters Michigan permitted the Illini only five points.

Bernie Bierman, coach of Minnesota which played both teams on successive weekends—losing to Illinois, 46-13, and Michigan 13-6—picks the Wolverines. The veteran mentor says Michigan has brilliant backs and more of them than Illinois. He observes that Michigan's decisive touchdown against his Gophers was scored by Gene Fernicotte, who was sent fresh into the game off the bench and immediately raced 21 yards.

Last year, the latest of the memorable Illinois-Michigan games, the Illini were rated a two-touchdown underdog. But at Ann Arbor they downed the Wolverines, 13-9 and went on to win the Big Nine and Rose Bowl titles.

LOU SAYS ORATORY DIDN'T BEAT ARMY

By OSCAR FRALEY
UP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—Columbia's Lou Little, the football fashion plate whose team upset mighty Army, smilingly denied today that his dressing room oratory fired the Lions to a comeback victory and gave the credit to second half science and "the spirit of the kids."

The Lions were a tired and battered team, trailing by 20 to 7, when they left the field after the first half. They came back to stop Army cold and score twice to win 21-20.

"All I did was to tell them quietly that it was their game if they went out and took it," Lou recalled happily. "Then I pointed out that the Army guards were dropping back on pass plays. So all we had to do was run when they cropped out—and pass when they didn't. The kids went out and did just that, and won their ball game.

"I didn't weep and yell and beg," Lou grinned. "I didn't do a darned thing dramatic."

But there was a time.

Not so many years ago you had to be more than just a coach. It was a job which demanded all the acting skill of the stage's Walter Hampden, the ability to register pathos ala Uncle Tom's Cabin, and the toughness of a dock hand. It was part of the script to howl at the half, and the best man usually won.

One of the greatest gridiron dramatists was the late Knute Rockne. Once when Notre Dame was losing, he faced his team with tears in his eyes and sobbed:

"Boys, my little son is lying in critical condition in a hospital at South Bend. The doctors say he has little chance to live. But as he nears the crisis, the radio is turned on and he's praying for you boys. If you win it might pull him through."

The Rock was slightly abashed, however, when the team pulled in at South Bend and his "dangerously ill" son was waiting at the station, hale and hearty.

NOTRE DAME RATED TOP COLLEGE TEAM

Irish Slip Past Michigan in AP Sports Poll.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—Notre Dame, still toying with the opposition as it moves toward the Nov. 9 meeting with Army, was back as No. 1 college football team of the country today on the basis of returns from the weekly Associated Press poll.

After giving the Irish second billing to Michigan for two weeks straight, the nation's sports writers voted Frank Leahy's men their old familiar first-place ranking and dropped the Wolverines to the runner-up position.

Notre Dame, choice of the writers as the top team of 1946, has started off in the same spot this year. The Irish slipped past Iowa, 21-0, last week for their fourth straight victory and still supposedly playing "under wraps," headed for Saturday's meeting with Navy. Michigan's narrow squeak in pulling a 13-6 victory from Minnesota out of the fire apparently lowered the voters' estimation of the Wolverines. Last week they garnered 147 of 168 first-place votes. This time they collected only 69 while Notre Dame was awarded 78 of the 195 ballots.

The most extensive weekly poll in many years gave Notre Dame a point score of 1,734 (10 points for a first-place ballot, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc. Michigan's total was 1,689. Texas remained in third place with 1,5?6 as a result of the Longhorns' triumph over Rice.

Two new tenants appeared among the top 10, with Southern Methodist and Duke supplanting California and Illinois. S.M.U.'s Mustangs climbed from twelfth to eighth on a 7-0 win over U.C.L.A. Duke's 13-6 conquest of Wake Forest moved the Blue Devils from fifteenth to ninth.

Pennsylvania's success over Navy shoved the Quakers from eighth to fourth. Southern California zoomed from tenth to fifth place on the basis of its 39-14 whipping of California. The defeat dropped Pappy Waldorf's Golden Bears from No. 4 spot to fourteenth. Unbeaten Penn State climbed from ninth to seventh off its 21-14 verdict over previously undefeated West Virginia.

Army, still smarting from the 21-20 setback by Columbia that ended the Cadets' non-losing streak after 32 games, tumbled from sixth place to tenth, just a notch ahead of Illinois, Saturday's victim of Purdue.

Fesler Gets Willie[s] Looking Either Wa[y]

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 28—All Ohio State's harried and harassed guide, handsome Wes Fesler, had to do today to get screaming meemies was to look behind or ahead—it made no difference.

Behind him was the 13-0 Pittsburgh debacle; ahead of him McMillin's larruping Hoosiers of Indiana university.

Wes approached his task today with all the enthusiasm of a hog caller with acute tonsilitis, but he buckled down grimly and inked his week's program with the observation "we are going to hold down and keep the practices short."

"We've got to loosen up and relax those kids and get them over the tightness they had against Pittsburgh."

And that fans has been the only Fesler statement which had any bearing on why Ohio State became unhinged last Saturday to the tune of 10 fumbles.

One thing the Buckeye coach is determined to guard against. He doesn't want his Bucks to watch George Taliaferro go by. Taliaferro is a triple threater of great potentialities.

Scout Ernie Godfrey reported Taliaferro will be listed as a left halfback, but under the left-wing football practiced by the canny Hoosier mentor, Taliaferro is likely to turn up in any of the other three spots behind the line.

Godfrey declared Indiana's most successful running plays have been reverse sweeps to the weak side of their always unbalanced line but he added a program note.

"Watch and see where that Taliaferro is," he said, "if you don't want to miss any of the action."

Majority of Dodger Writers Say, "Let Lippy Come Back"

BROOKLYN, N. Y.—There are two schools of thought among the nine baseball writers who have seen practically every game played by the Brooklyn Dodgers the last two years.

If President Branch Rickey of the Dodgers were to be guided by the nine writers as to whether he should go along with the suspended Leo Durocher or forget about his stormy $50,000-a-year pilot of 1946, Lippy would be back in Ebbets Field next spring.

Five of the nine writers feel that Durocher is entitled to have his old job as the highest paid manager in the history of baseball. The other four all refuse to get excited over the setup and all replied "not interested" or "no comment" to the question.

One veteran writer, who was covering the Dodgers even before Durocher made the grade as a big league shortstop, says:

"Leo has done nothing wrong on the ball field. I believe he is entitled to return after the year's suspension. Anyway Burt Shotton, who incidentally is doing a grand job, doesn't care whether he manages in 1948 or not. I doubt that Rickey knows the answer to his managerial problem. And if he does, only heaven knows what he's decided."

Two writers who say they have "no interest" in the matter turned out to be like the fellow who refused to discuss the weather but griped about 90 degree heat. They felt that Durocher is not the managerial genius many have said he was and that Shotton's handling of a below par pitching staff bears out their contention.

Meanwhile, Branch Rickey just sits back, puffing on a big cigar and appearing to look into space. But all the while Rickey probably is saying to himself:

"I'll play this hand to the hilt. It keeps Brooklyn in the news and that means customers in the ball park."

The man who runs Brooklyn's baseball fortunes and "split double headers" is thinking all the time. There are few veterans who dispute the belief that he is the shrewdest baseball man in history.

Rickey has saved himself and Brooklyn's stockholders a tidy sum since Commissioner Chandler suspended Durocher for "conduct detrimental to baseball." Leo made $50,000 last season and Shotton, though he claims to be making more money this year than ever before, is getting about half of Durocher's salary, veterans believe. Meanwhile, Durocher hasn't been paid "for not managing the Dodgers." He was on a year-to-year basis.

While Rickey is under no obligation to Lippy it is felt that Durocher will get some share of the World Series spoils. After all he ran the team through spring training in Havana and all the players were still Dodgers when Shotton took over.

Barberton Moves To Top In High School Grid List

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio Associated Press Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 28—Of the 565 Ohio high schools playing football this season, only a score or so have escaped defeat as the Buckeye boys present one of the most evenly-matched campaigns in history.

For the last three weeks the team rated the best in the realm by sports writers has been swept from the peak by an unexpected defeat, along with plenty of others among the first 10 until upset by an underdog foe.

Massillon's mighty Tigers, after a one-week reign, were the latest to suffer the sports writers' "kiss of death," a 20-13 loss to a swashbuckling Warren Harding crew erasing them from the top spot and plummeting them to eighth in the standings.

Barberton's Magics, coached by Harry Strobel, took over the first place torch as the Tigers dropped it, a 40-13 conquest of Niles pushing the Summit county lads to the fore with seven straight wins. Strobel, former Massillon player, long has been recognized as one of the state's top mentors. He had two consecutive undefeated-untied campaigns at Orrville and a state Class A basketball championship club at Bellevue.

Matching Barberton's record of seven straight conquests are Middletown, Fremont Ross, Elyria, Columbus West, Akron West, Salem, Martins Ferry, Gallipolis, Lisbon, Upper Sandusky, Grandview, Troy and Piqua, while North Canton, Navarre, Smithfield, Genoa Conneaut and St. Clairsville have six without a setback.

Bowling Green, Austintown Fitch and Bexley suffered their first defeats last weekend, and all dropped the verdict to another unbeaten squad; Fremont Ross whitewashed the Bee-Gee club 45-0, Austintown Fitch fell 12-0 before Conneaut, while Grandview whipped Bexley 34 to 7.

Unbeaten Fremont and Elyria, each with a powerhouse, clash this week, but the real spotlight will be on a pair of once-beaten clubs—Massillon and Cleveland Cathedral Latin—which meet Friday in Cleveland stadium before about 50,000 fans.

Halfback Bob Salyers of New Boston was the one-man gang last weekend, running his six-game scoring total to 90 with a six-touchdown splurge which smothered Washington Rural 59-0.

Down at Chillicothe they're still singing the praises of Youngstown Ursuline's Tony (Zip) Morrocco, a 165-pounder who went 47, 72 and 8 yards for the three touchdowns which whipped Chillicothe 18-14. "Zip" is the best seen around there since Chillicothe sent Byron Eby and Jim Strausbaugh up to star for Ohio State, so say the folks about this triple-threat star, who averaged 15.8 yards from scrimmage in 11 tries.

Other three-touchdown scorers included John Colceri of Canton McKinley as the Bulldogs whipped Steubenville 48-6, just a week after the Big Red had swept Toledo Waite from the unbeaten ranks in a decided upset, Dick Pont of Canton Timken, to defeat Ashtabula, 21-7; and Bill Owen of North Canton, all on passes, to smother Akron Ellett 41-0, John Blackmon of Canton Lehman, in the 49-12 win over Akron Kenmore, and Dick Shuff of Mt. Vernon, in the wild and wooly win over Newark.

Mt. Vernon, in whipping Newark 44-12 before the town's biggest sports crowd of 6200, scored 32 points in the first period while Newark was getting six. Shuff, in the last two games has averaged 62 2/3 yards per gallop on six touchdown runs.

From here and there: 23,000 fans saw the Canton McKinley-Steubenville game . . . Ben Barrett, Salem coach, wore his "victory" raincoat for the 13th straight time Friday night, and it worked again for a 25-0 verdict over Girard (he wears it rain or shine, and once held up a game until a manager could retrieve it from his home) . . . Marion Harding's five-game winning streak was halted 20-19 by Ashland, but Jim Coss threw three touchdown passes for the losers . . . The boys say Herb Edington's 34-yard sprint for Warren's second touchdown against Massillon was the season's classic open field run . . . Al Morhard completed 18 of 25 passes for 289 yards as Cleveland Heights handed Sandusky its seventh straight defeat, 48-0 . . . Tip to college scouts—over around Martins Ferry, in a Class B school coached by Delmas Dicenhoof, former Iowa guard, is a 165-pound back who has scored 126 points in seven games, one a loser to unbeaten Class A St. Clairsville.

Here's how the state's sports writers rated the top teams this week, with the won-lost records and the total votes:

Team	Won-Lost	Votes
Barberton	7—0	115
Middletown	7—0	101
Canton McKinley	5—1	81
Fremont Ross	7—0	71
Elyria	7—0	65
Columbus West	7—0	43
Cleveland Cath. Latin	5—1	42
Massillon	5—1	35
Cleveland Holy Name	5—1	24
Warren Harding	6—1	20

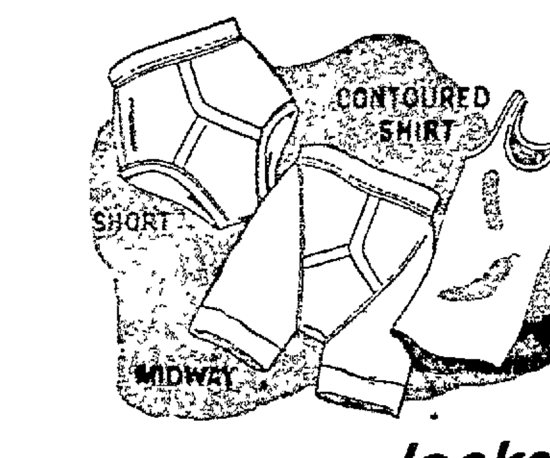

Toledo Waite 14, Salem 13, Martins Ferry 13, Grandview 10, Hamilton 9, Akron West 8, Toledo Scott 6, Canton Lincoln 5, Springfield 3, Conneaut 2, Lisbon 2, Dayton Chaminade 2, Troy 1, Upper Sandusky 1.

New York Stock Quotations

1 O'CLOCK QUOTATIONS

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—Bidding for steels, motors and selected industrials gave the stock market a slightly brighter appearance today although many leaders were neglected.

Dealings, fairly active at the start, soon tapered but advances of fractions to a point or so were well distributed near midday.

Ahead most of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, International Harvester, United Aircraft, North American, American Water Works, American Smelting, National Supply and Texas Co. Denver and Rio Grande preferred was up a shade on the first dividend since 1911.
